Alexander Eiselmayer (CTO) recommends Hai to any future employer and thanks him for the great work at EDUBAO! I have had the privilege of working with Hai for the past year, and I am extremely impressed with his technical skills, problem-solving abilities, and positive attitude.

Hai is a highly talented software developer with a strong background in ReactJS, NextJS and Gatsby. He has played a crucial role in developing and deploying several complex projects, including our website and the studyportal. His expertise in these technologies has allowed them to deliver high-quality work that meets and exceeds client expectations. One of Hai's greatest strengths is his ability to understand complex technical requirements and translate them into practical solutions. He has a keen eye for detail and always strives to deliver error-free work. Furthermore, Hai is an excellent communicator and works well in a team environment. He is able to effectively communicate technical information to non-technical stakeholders and has a positive attitude that inspires those around them.

In addition to their technical skills, Hai is a quick learner and is always seeking to expand their knowledge and skills. They have a strong work ethic and are always willing to go above and beyond to ensure the success of a project. Their positive attitude and commitment to delivering high-quality work have earned them the respect of their colleagues and clients alike.

I am confident that Hai would be an asset to any software development team and would excel in a role at your company. I strongly recommend Hai for any software development opportunity and would be happy to provide further information if required. Hai's employment was ended due to his entry in the mandatory military service in Vietnam. The whole EDUBAO team wishes him all the best for the upcoming time and much success in personal life and professional career.

Hai, we at EDUBAO will always have a door open for you and welcome you at any time.

Sincerely,
